Course description:

GRMN 2001 Intermediate German I offers a rapid review of grammar with continued use of listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills in German, all with a cultural emphasis. This course aims to build oral and written communication skills in German at the intermediate level and improve cultural awareness and literacy of the German-speaking world. GRMN 2001 contributes to students' education in the humanities by teaching both the German language and the humanistic cultures of the German-speaking world.

Course learning outcomes:

Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:

1. Use German to communicate with peers and instructor both orally and in writing to create a shared community experience.
2. Employ strategies to comprehend texts (in written, aural, and video form) written by and for German speakers.
3. Employ strategies to express ideas orally and in writing related to familiar topics in presentational contexts.
4. Employ strategies to express ideas in interpersonal contexts in culturally appropriate ways, including identifying and signaling comprehension breakdown, asking and answering questions, and requesting information.
5. Understand and communicate the basics of German-speaking cultures, modes of life, and customs.
6. Develop intercultural awareness through the study of the similarities and differences among and the relationships between language and culture systems.

7. Be prepared to continue developing German language skills and cultural understanding in GRMN 2002.
