INTA 8803FW. Government and Politics of China

Fall 2026

Instructor: Dr. Philip Fei-Ling Wang

Time: TuTh 17:00-18:15

E-mail: fw@gatech.edu

Course Description

This course aims at examining the main aspects of Chinese politics—how the People’s Republic of China (PRC) is politically organized and governed. The emphasis will be a historical and comparative description of the governmental institutions, political culture, and political party—the Chinese Communist Party (CCP). We will also discuss and assess the CCP-PRC government’s policy-making in the areas of the economy, sociocultural affairs, disease-control, and foreign policy. The aim is to understand the internal sociopolitical structure and dynamics of the PRC as a rising world power, representing an alternative mode of sociopolitical governance and a distinctive model of economic development.

There is no special requirement for this course except a willingness to read, think, and learn. The class will be organized as a seminar with a clear emphasis on having an extensive classroom participation of the students.

An effort of following the current events in the PRC is encouraged. Publications such as The New York Times, The Washington Post, and the South China Morning Post as well as the web-based news services list below are useful sources for the different views about China in English:

China Digital Times: <http://chinadigitaltimes.net>

China Daily: <http://www.chinadaily.com.cn/index.html>

The students are expected to participate in classroom discussions. The assigned readings are expected to be finished before classes.

Course Rules

Unless the student has an official letter from the GT administration certifying a need for special accommodation, audio or video recording is not allowed in class.

Cell phones are to be placed on vibrate mode or turned off and remain out of sight, unless you are expecting an emergency call (in that case, please alert the instructor before class). No texting during class.

Class attendance is mandatory unless excused for legit reasons with proper documentation (e.g., doctor's note). Lecture slides will not be available online, nor made available unless there was an excused absence.

In addition to observation of class rules and carrying a professional conduct in classroom, Attentive and active contribution to class discussions will be awarded. All views are welcome!

University Policies

The Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts supports the Georgia Institute of Technology's commitment to creating a campus free of discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. We further affirm the importance of cultivating an intellectual climate that allows us to better understand the similarities and differences of those who constitute the Georgia Tech community, as well as the necessity of working against inequalities.

If you are a learner that requires adaptations for you to succeed in this course or are a student with disabilities that requires accommodations, please contact the Office of Disability (404) 894-2563 or disabilityservices@gatech.edu to make an appointment to discuss your needs and obtain the appropriate accommodation letter. Any student requiring such adaptation/accommodation should make inform the instructor as soon as possible so to make the appropriate arrangement.

We have all committed to upholding the ideals of honor and academic integrity. Please consult University policies for more information (www.policylibrary.gatech.edu/student-affairs/academic-honor-code; www.catalog.gatech.edu/rules/18/). Any student suspected of violations of honor code including but not limited to cheating or plagiarizing behavior will be automatically reported to the Office of Student Integrity, which will investigate the incident and recommend penalties for the violations.

Course Requirements

Requirement	Marks	(%)
Participation/Attendance	200	20
Group Presentation	200	20
Reading Report	200	20
Research Paper	400	40
Total	1,000	100

Group Presentation will be a research project exploring one aspect of Chinese politics by the students. Each presenting group should select a research topic to be approved by the instructor by Week 5. Sample topics include: China's political parties; leading factions inside the CCP; the political role of the PLA; corruption; the trade war with the US; and the PRC's management of the Covid-19 pandemic. Each group should conduct a collective research and write a report and, finally, make an oral presentation of no longer than 15-19 minutes to the class, including Q & A. A written report (3 pages, single space or 5 pages, double space) is due on the day of the presentation. The format of the presentation may be modified later depending on logistic conditions.

Participation/attendance will be based on the quality and the quantity of your participation in class discussions and the Q&A sessions of the group project. The class will be a mixture of informal lecture and relaxed discussion. All views are welcome and those who participate actively will be rewarded appropriately. We all learn from each other's insights.

Reading Report: You are required to write two (2-3 pages, single space) reading reports on Joseph, Wang I or Wang II. The reports should be critical summaries of the book(s). No outside reading or research is needed. You are required to make an oral presentation (including Q&A) of one of your reports and lead class discussion.

Research Paper: You are required to write a research paper addressing one aspect of Chinese politics. Your paper topic must be submitted with a brief justification to the instructor by Week 5. It should have 14-15 double-spaced pages, excluding bibliography and cover page. The completed paper is due on the last day of class.

AI Policy

Generative AI agents offer additional opportunities for learning, research and communication. It is therefore allowed in this class as long as the GT Honor Code and the guidelines below are met.

Responsibility: you are responsible for the work submitted/presented, and ensure that any factual statements produced by a generative AI tool are true and that any references or citations produced by the AI tool are correct.

Transparency: Any generative AI tools you use in the group presentation of the course should be clearly acknowledged, including not only content directly produced by a generative AI tool but also when a generative AI tool is used in the process of composition and translation.

Documentation: You should cite any content generated by an AI tool as you would when quoting, paraphrasing, or summarizing ideas, text, images, or other content made by other people.
